Delegation of Prominent Britishers Proceeds to Get Him Out of Bed to Keep an Engagement Made at Glasgow.

By Telegram to The Times.

GLASGOW, June 14.—(Special Dispatch.) All arrangements were made for the Afghan Prince, Nasrulla Khan, to visit and inspect the thread works at Paisley and the ship-building yards on the Clyde today, but this morning Nasrulla positively refused to leave his bed in his hotel when he was aroused and informed that everything was in readiness for his coming. An elaborate luncheon had been prepared, and a large number of notable personages who had been invited, together with the corporation officials, were waiting the arrival of the Prince, when they were notified that he was still in bed. A deputation of guests and officers proceeded to the hotel, and finally induced his barbaric Highness to get up and keep his engagement to inspect the ship-building yards, which he did. The hour being so late, the visit to the thread works was not made.

Nasrulla acted in a similar manner in Liverpool, where he kept the guests waiting two hours on the occasion of his inspection of the electric railway in that city. The visit of the Afghan Prince has cost the English and Indian taxpayers a quarter of a million, but Nasrulla's only donation since his arrival in Great Britain has been a gift of £20,000 to the Moslem Mosque in Liverpool.

WHAT IT WILL COST.

Terms of Settlement Between De-faulter Taylor and South Dakota.
Associated Press Local-News Service.
PIERRE (S. D.), June 14.—Atty-Gen. Crawford has returned to the city. The terms granted Taylor in settlement in full for the $244,277 of the State, and the surrender of W. W. Taylor. Of the payment $100,000 is to be cash and all property owned by Taylor, consisting of Chicago real estate, lands in Southern Illinois, New Mexico mining stock and South Dakota real estate, to be turned in to Land Commissioner Lockhart, the property to be valued by Gov. Sheldon, Land Commissioner Lockhart and Atty-Gen. Crawford, and any deficit remaining to be made good by the bondsmen.

A free passport was furnished for Taylor, and placed in the hands of a trust agent, who brings Taylor, and will leave Chicago for Pierre next Sunday evening, reaching here Tuesday morning. A special term of court may be called to sentence him, as he desires to plead guilty and begin his sentence soon as possible, but he may not be brought into court until August 25, when an adjourned term will be held. Taylor was at one time on the ill-fated steamer Colima.

Chicago's Chief of Police Makes His Inspections After Dark.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Chief Badenoch had been receiving complaints from members of the Civic Federation regarding drinking-places frequented by women in the downtown district, so he decided last night to make a quiet investigation. He and his assistant, Chief Ross, drove away from the City Hall at 9 o'clock. They also wanted to see how the officers of the First and Second divisions attended to their duties. In none of the places visited did the Chief find any bootlegging. All the proprietors seen were told that the police department would not tolerate women frequently in their places, and if any more complaints were received their licenses would be revoked. The Chief and his assistant also looked over Inspector Hunt's district, stopping now and then to ask a question of some officer who did not recognize them. Both expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the night's work. At irregular intervals the Chief and his assistant will continue these night trips.

A CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST'S QUEER PERFORMANCE.

She Holds a Skeptic in Her Clutch Until Forced to Let Him Go—The Victim Said to Have Been Hypnotized.

By Telegram to The Times.

WARWICK (Mass.), June 14.—(Special Dispatch.) Christian science, represented in the person of Mrs. Weisner, wife of a Chicago doctor, and a great natural will-power in the person of Paul Goldsberry, also of Chicago, had a remarkable struggle for the mastery here. Both came here to spend their vacation. Mrs. Weisner coming as a guest of Mr. McDowell. All of the parties are warm personal friends, and the highest respectability. Mrs. Weisner is a Christian scientist while Goldsberry, although a Christian, does not believe in Christian science. Mrs. Weisner challenged Goldsberry to a test, and he accepted. They were to clasp hands and the one that yielded last was to be victor. Hands were clasped and the clasp was not broken for eighteen hours, and then only by force. Friends at first thought the contest a bit of pleasantry, but as the hours wore on and neither would yield, remonstrances followed. Postmaster Sampson and William Shepley told Mrs. Weisner and Goldsberry that force would be employed unless the contest was stopped. By main force two men at length parted the contestants.

In order to subdue Goldsberry, it was necessary to take him to his summer home, and when he was still under the influence of a nurse. Mrs. Weisner showed little effect of the long struggle, but the affair caused such comment that last Saturday she went home to Chicago. The claim is made that she hypnotized Goldsberry.

HEIRS AND HEIRS.

A Peculiar State of Affairs in the Henry Household.

Associated Press Local-News Service.

DENVER (Colo.), June 14.—A special to the News from Greeley, Colo., says that a most remarkable case was decided in the District Court today. David Henry came to Greeley in 1870 and invested in lands now worth $40,000. He married Mrs. Callista Evans in 1878 and died in 1880, his wife dying eight years later. The estate was entered for probate. The case now decided was brought by the heirs of Susan Henry, who claim that she was married to Henry in Missouri in 1849, having two children by him, and that the children by the laws of Missouri, are entitled to one-half of the estate.

During the progress of this case there appeared the heirs of still another wife claiming marriage to Henry in California in 1839. In answer, the Missouri heirs set out that Judge Boughton agreed, dismissing the case of the Missouri heirs. The conclusion will now be a compromise between the heirs of the California and Colorado wives.

Clemens from Elmira, and their best wishes. Other messages have been received from George W. Cable, Mary Mapes Dodge, Susan B. Anthony, Frank R. Stockton, Senator Palmer of Illinois, and William Dean Howells.

CURRENT TALK

Mr. Carlisle Speaks at Louisville.
Aftermath of the Memphis Convention.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), June 14.—The large personal following of Secretary Carlisle in this city and the keen interest felt by all classes in the currency question filled the Music Hall this evening with such a crowd as it never before saw congregated on a similar occasion.

Long before the hour at which the address was to be given, the hall was filled to overflowing, the well-to-do and business men jostling with the laborer and mechanic for a convenient seat. Nor was the meeting a gathering of Democrats to honor a party leader. Republicans were out in force.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Mr. Carlisle came forward and was presented by C. R. Long. His reception showed he was satisfied the most expectant. When the tremendous applause subsided, in his clear, incisive voice, Mr. Carlisle waded immediately into his subject.

Mr. Carlisle repeated his argument that the undervalued metal would be driven out of the country by the adoption of a bimetallic system, and at some length paid attention to the claim that the fall in the price of silver was due to a demonetization. He said: "It is insisted, it is claimed, that the fall in the price of silver is attributable to the legislation in Germany, the United States, France and various other countries during and since the year 1873, and, most illogically, it is also insisted that, notwithstanding the reduced price of that metal in the result of unfavorable action of a great many governments acting in concert and with a self-purposed, the United States can alone restore value of silver. Of course, if it required the action of twelve or thirteen different governments to bring the price of silver to its present state, it would seem quite certain that no one of them alone could restore it, and if the depreciation in the value of silver as compared to gold has been caused solely by the action of legislation, it is plain, it follows that if that legislation had never taken place the value of silver as compared to gold would be the same as it was in 1872, before that legislation occurred. What, then, would have been the result? Not a single dollar of full legal-tender silver would have been in circulation in the United States at this time. It is true, the bullion contained in the silver dollar since 1872, because at that time the bullion contained in the silver dollar was worth only 80 per cent, more than the bullion contained in the gold dollar, and the two could not circulate together.

The same law which drove silver out of circulation under the acts of 1834 and 1837 would have kept it out, and instead of having in circulation among the people about three hundred million dollars of silver money, as we would have had none. The fall in the price of silver was not due to the legislation complained of, but to an enormous overproduction. The annual production of silver in the world during the five years next preceding 1880 was about $55,000,000, while in 1883 it was over $60,000,000. The annual production of silver in the world during the five years next preceding 1880 was about $55,000,000, while in 1883 it was over $60,000,000. The annual production of silver in the world during the five years next preceding 1880 was about $55,000,000, while in 1883 it was over $60,000,000.

That the flat of the government does not make money was illustrated by the history of the trade dollar. That was coined free of charge and delivered without expense to the owners of bullion and contained thirty-six more grains than was contained in two half dollars or four quarters. It was legal tender for all debts up to $5, just as half dollars and quarters were. The trade dollar, more valuable intrinsically, but without the credit of the government, sank to 80 cents, while the less valuable coins were maintained at full par. What happened to the trade dollar was exactly what would happen to other silver dollars if free and unlimited coinage were adopted.

Mr. Carlisle will leave here tomorrow for Washington.

SENATOR BLACKBURN'S CRITICISMS.

FRANKFORT (Ky.), June 14.—Senator Blackburn addressed a large audience here tonight. He said that he hoped it would not be necessary for him to speak to his neighbors, as he had defended himself against lies and slanders elsewhere. Every newspaper wearing the collar of its master, every gauger and storekeeper had combined with the administration and money power to cause his defeat. Senator Lindsay told him last night that he (Blackburn) was preaching heresy. Carlisle had been sent here and he thought it would be more civil if the President would make the combine complete and lock the doors of the White House and come himself.

Carlisle was taken to task for saying that he had never favored free and unlimited coinage. Senator Blackburn saying that he sat by his side and thought he heard him vote for the gold ver bill in November, 1873, and vote and speak for the acts of 1890 and he would give the best member of his body if Carlisle had not been the ablest advocate of free and unlimited coinage of silver. "But Brutus tells you that he had not and surely Brutus is an honorable man."

Carlisle had said in his speeches that there was but $3,000,000 in silver coined between 1792 and 1873, while the truth is that there was $105,000,000 of silver money coined. Carlisle was also accused by Blackburn of misrepresenting by $2,000,000 the amount of gold in circulation. The greatest portion of the speech was devoted to the severe criticism of Cleveland, Carlisle, Lindsay and the present administration.

"SOUND MONEY" DECLINES.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), June 14.—The Gazette today printed an editorial suggesting that Senator Jones, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions at the Memphis free-silver convention, and Judge U. M. Rose, Arkansas member of the National Democratic Committee, who was chairman of the National Committee of the "sound-money" convention, meet in this city for the purpose of sounding the keynote in the campaign of education on the silver question. Judge Rose declines to entertain the proposition in the following card:

"However enticing this proposition may appear, I must beg leave to decline it, because I am not aware that such a proceeding at this time would do any good, and because I have expressed my opinion on an important public question. Every one has a right to do this, and I have no objection to having my opinions that I have expressed have been formed in good faith, and after due deliberation. So far I have seen no reason for changing them, and everything to confirm them. I believe them to be essential to the welfare of the people of all classes. Meantime, if you cannot win without the excitement of a political campaign, allow me to suggest that you get up one between the silver men and the Populists."

AFTERMATH OF THE CONVENTION.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), June 14.—The movement inaugurated last night for the formation of a silver organization within the lines of the Democratic party is believed to be a step of the kind that will have a campaign question. Senators Harris, Jones and Turpie were named as a committee to select the members of an executive committee consisting of one man from each State. Senator Harris said today:

"The league will be purely a Democratic organization for the purpose of securing a better form of campaign question. Senators Harris, Jones and Turpie were named as a committee to select the members of an executive committee consisting of one man from each State. Senator Harris said today:

SUITS FOR DAMAGES

THE PACIFIC MAIL DEFENDANT IN THREE CASES.

Complainants Have Lost Loved Ones by the Sinking of the Steamer Colima.

Officers of the Vessel Charged with Having Neglected to Provide for the Safety of the Passengers.

Native Daughters' Election—The Cent at Lodi—Change of Bill at Santa Cruz—Heavy Gale on Shore—The Arizona Murderers.

Associated Press Special Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Three suits for damages aggregating $150,000 will be filed against the Pacific Mail Company tomorrow as the result of the loss of the steamer Colima. One suit will be brought by Charles Thornton, whose wife was a passenger on the Colima. Another will be brought by Mrs. Thomas Gray, whose husband was in charge of the refrigerator room, and the third complainant is T. C. Struckmann, whose mother was drowned.

The complaints as prepared by Attorney Phillips charge that the cargo of the steamer was badly stowed and that the officers showed neglect in not giving the passengers warning of the danger so that they could have taken measures to save their lives. It is charged that life-preservers were not given to the passengers and that there were not enough life-preservers on board to supply all who needed them.

Other charges are that the Colima was not properly equipped and that the discipline on board was lax. It is also alleged that the San Juan left the Colima of the wreck too soon, and that, had her captain exercised due diligence, other lives might have been saved.

A SEAMAN'S ARRANGEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—George D. Ross, for many years a seaman in the United States Navy, was the principal witness at today's investigation by the Federal inspectors into the loss of the steamer Colima. He stated that in his opinion Capt. Taylor of the Colima and the other officers were incompetent, adding that no effort had been made to save the passengers, or even to warn them of danger, and that no effort had been made to set sail after the steady rain.

He characterized the statement of Third Officer Hansen that the boats were in proper condition for lowering as a tissue of lies, and said that Hansen's other false statements regarding the shipwreck. Ross says that the Colima's boats were swung in and were lashed down, and that the crew of the Colima, after the ship was wrecked, all parts of the fall strapped to the davits. He said that the Colima's cargo had been stowed slack, and so shifted in the hold that the Colima's disaster was due to this improper stowing of the cargo, to the steamer's being top-heavy by reason of overloading, and to incompetent officers. A cross-examination failed to shake the positiveness of this testimony.

STAR OF FREEDOM.

The Government Finds Difficulty in Getting it From Mexico.

Associated Press Special Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The United States government is having a good deal of trouble regarding the schooner Star of Freedom, which was taken from this city some months ago by Oscar Bartles. When he returned to this city his vessel was gone, and, on making an investigation, he found that the vessel had been sailed to Ensenada, Lower California, by Bartles. When the owner of the vessel went to Ensenada to take possession of her, the Mexican government refused to give her up, and he returned to this city without his vessel.

The Federal authorities are determined to secure possession of the vessel at any cost, so next week United States Marshal Baldwin will leave for Ensenada with the necessary manly, and no doubt, the vessel will be turned over to him.

RUDOLPH "SQUARED."

Ex-Boss Buckley Now Walks Aboard as of Yore.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The Bulletin says that Chris Buckley now walks on the streets, after months spent in seclusion through fear of John Rudolph. Rudolph has been in jail, charged with attempt to murder Business Manager Elliott of the San Francisco Chronicle. Rudolph escaped prosecution by heading into the asylum, and was then rearrested. He threatened to kill Buckley, alleging that the latter had defrauded him out of property.

After being in jail for some months, San Rafael acted as a peacemaker, and, upon Buckley transferring to Belmont a hundred shares of a local lottery company and a house and lot, Rudolph agreed not to molest the ex-boss. Buckley then procured bonds for Rudolph, who was released, and peace was restored.

CROPS RUINED.

A Worm and a Disease Ravaging Near Lodi.

Associated Press Special Service.

LODI, June 14.—Farmers who have growing grain are worried at the appearance of a worm resembling the cut or army worm, which has done very much damage in this vicinity, especially near Lockford, where whole fields have been ruined by the insects. At the same time the crop of watermelons promises to be short on account of a mysterious disease which attacks portions of the fruit, killing the leaves and sucking, yet leaving the roots sound and whole.

So much damage has already been done that farmers are determined to secure the services of the State quarantine officers of the Horticultural Society to come here and investigate. Nothing like either insect has ever been known here before, and even though their ravages be stopped now thousands of dollars will be lost to grain and melon-growers.

Verdict of Guilty Against Laake and Schultz.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.), June 14.—The trial of Paul Laake and William Schultz, for the murder of G. K. W. McNary, was today terminated, by a verdict of guilty against both men.

The murder was one of the most brutal in the history of the Territory. McNary, with his son Dick, had a mining claim in the Prescott mountains, and both were accustomed to walking to town at night, when business called there. One dark night in January the old man Laake and his son, who had been seen on the day previous to the murder in the vicinity of McNary's camp with a double-barreled shotgun, were seen walking to town, but among the other links of circumstantial evidence against the accused was a letter written by McNary, in which it is supposed that the gun was used as a club, as the ground where McNary's body was found showed evidence of a terrible struggle.

THE GREAT POWER.

MANHATTAN ELEVATED WILL USE ELECTRICITY.

Southern Pacific Conductors to Furnish Bonds—Restoration of Rates on the Southwestern Lines—New Stations—Santa Fe Changes.

A new departure in operating the Manhattan Elevated Railroad of New York has been decided on. This is explained by a dispatch received by the Times last night from Pittsburgh, Pa., and which is as follows:

"A contract for the electrical equipment of the Manhattan Elevated Railroad of New York has been awarded to the Westinghouse Electric Company of Pittsburgh. It covers between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. The first official announcement of the fact was given out by F. K. Hahn, vice-president and general manager of the Manhattan road, who said: 'Electricity is the power of the future in our business, and we must keep up with the times. The contract will involve between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 worth of electrical apparatus. It will not mean a change in our roadway, but will give us a cheaper system of operation than is in use at present. Locomotives of 200 horsepower will be used, and the cars will be heated and lighted by electricity.'"

A RATE WAR.

OMAHA (Nebr.), June 14.—Effective June 17, the Rock Island, in conjunction with the Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, will reduce the Missouri River and Mississippi River rates to Utah common points to meet the promulgated reduction of the Union Pacific.

If the Union Pacific carries out its established basis of rates to Utah common points, Colorado rates will be reduced to the same proportion from Colorado common points as from Missouri River. The present first-class rate from Denver to Utah is $2. The $1.50 rate, however, announced by the Transmissouri lines from Omaha to Salt Lake City, will be reduced to the Colorado rate to $1.32, being 80 per cent of the Missouri River rate. Like reductions will be scheduled on other commodities.

The Burlington, anticipating the cut announced this morning by the Union Pacific, telegraphed yesterday to their Chicago headquarters to quote the reduced Chicago-Utah rates Saturday morning instead of Monday, the date appointed for the Union Pacific to go into effect.

Had the Union Pacific allowed its first cut to become operative without the reduction on Monday, it would have resulted in a discrimination against the late business of the Union Pacific, understood by the traffic department of the Union Pacific, the Chicago-Utah rates were made accordingly.

SECURITY REQUIRED.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The Southern Pacific has notified conductors on the Coast Division Railway that a bond of $2000 will be required from them as security from possible loss by cheating or defalcation. The order is made with a great deal of opposition from the conductors.

RATES MAY BE RESTORED. ST. LOUIS, June 14.—There are good prospects for a restoration of rates on the Southwest lines. The Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain has taken independent action and given notice to its agents and connections that no more shipments would be received at anything less than full tariff. The other roads are expected to follow suit.

Orange county is one foot behind San Diego county in the matter of rattlesnakes. The record for lengths of recently-killed rattlers now stands six feet against seven feet respectively.

From Pasadena comes a novel application of a trite fact, being the discovery that by means of certain drinking contrivances which are coming into popular favor one can drop a penny in a slot and get a variety of microbes.

Redlands is proud of the fact that he of her daughters is to study for the practice of medicine. There is a good field for female physicians in Southern California, and those of the fair sex who have the energy to engage in this branch of the professions will find unlimited opportunities for usefulness.

A reader of The Times, objecting to a paragraph published yesterday, calls attention to the fact that Echo Park is one of the prettiest parks in the city, and is only three minutes' walk over a graded street from the Temple-street cable road. The project of establishing a bath-house in that quarter has numerous supporters.

And now word comes from Orange county that a company at Fullerton proposes to pipe the gas that is being obtained now from the oil well in the hills back of that town down into the enterprising little burg for its residents to consume. With both oil and natural gas Fullerton, in the language of the vernacular, will be "strictly in it."

Southern California market reports quote "hens, $4.50 to $5.00; young roosters, $4.50 to $5.00; old roosters, $4.00." How it must sadden an old rooster to think that he is worth 50 cents less than a young rooster, and is not even so valuable as an old hen. It looks as if females in the fowl kingdom at least had their rights. They don't need the aid of any Susan B. Anthony, if the market reports are correct.

The St. Louis papers are discussing the story of a doctor who died recently in that city at the advanced age of 140 years. One of his peculiarities was that he never washed, but is said to have kept his body clean by scrubbing himself with dry sand. Now look out for a big demand for Los Angeles River sand. The Council ought to go slow about letting a contract for taking sand out of the river, as it will certainly go up in price.

Here is an instance of a traveling arsenal and general hardware store such as is rarely encountered outside of Texas. The San Bernardino correspondent of The Times tells about it. He says that when Edward Miller, an escaped lunatic from Highland Asylum, was captured, there was found on his person the following wonderful general assortment: Forty dollars in postage stamps, several railroad tickets, a British bulldog revolver, four razors, three knives and three pairs of scissors. All that he lacked was a small collection of speckled pigs to start a Barnum's museum.

FROM CATALINA

AVALON (Catalina Island), June 14.—

(By Homing Pigeon Orlando to The Times.) A conspiracy on foot among the anglers, rumor hath it, to restrain Beard, the Canadaigua fisherman, from casting a hook lest he catch all the fish in the sea. Yesterday he landed 223 pounds of albicore and Catalina muskallonge, making a grand total of 600 pounds in five consecutive days. This bonanza fisherment uses an ordinary rod and reel. The two albicore weighed 45 pounds and the largest of the seven muskallonge tipped the scales at 50 pounds.

W. L. Washington caught a 16-pound albicore yesterday.

NEW AND EXPECTED GUESTS

Guy Cochran of Los Angeles came over last night for a preliminary look at Catalina before coming for the season. Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Cochran expect to be here during the month of August, accompanied by their son.

Mr. Goldstein and family, of the well-known firm Kutner & Goldstein in Fresno, expect to visit Catalina later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Bassinet and Mr. and Mrs. Hale of Los Angeles have engaged rooms at the Pitman House for July and August. Messrs. Bassinet and Hale are members of the Board of Education.

Mrs. Freeman, wife of Rev. J. W. Freeman of Ontario, arrived by last night's steamer and is domiciled at the Glenmore.

Rev. J. W. Campbell came over last evening to spend a couple of days with his wife and daughter. The other members of the family are expected on Monday when they will take possession of their cottage for the season.

C. W. Baird and bride of San Francisco arrived last night and are at the Metropole. Mr. Baird is vice-president of the Overland Freight Transfer Company and has visited many notable resorts but thinks Catalina surpasses them all in its marvelous combination of beach and mountain attractions.

Last night's arrivals at the Metropole include Roy S. Barnhart of Altadena, J. S. Torrance of Pasadena, J. C. Cline, Miss Hook, Master Barbee Hook of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Kutner and daughter of San Francisco left this morning after a stay of several days. Mrs. Kutner is enthusiastic in her admiration of Catalina, which she declares is destined to become the resort of the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Hart and daughter of Asbury Park, N. J., who have been spending some time at the Metropole, have become so infatuated with the charms of Catalina that they have decided to remain the entire season and have taken a tent located beyond the pavilion in the eucalyptus grove.

J. Downey Harvey and family left yesterday for Los Angeles and San Francisco.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A delightful birthday dinner was given today at noon in the dining-room of the Metropole in honor of Miss Mildred Campbell, the little daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell of Los Angeles, who passed her first milestone of life. A table had been arranged, charmingly decorated with marguerites, the delicate white blossoms harmonizing perfectly with the dainty little miss who occupied the seat of honor at the head of the sweet peas and rosebuds, and presided over the feast with a baby-like dignity that was charming. Boutonnieres of marguerites were at each plate and a special menu card had been prepared dedicated to the small hostess. During the dinner a photograph was taken of the table and guests, who included, besides Miss Mildred, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell, Mrs. Clara R. Shatto, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whitney, Master Walter Whitney, Mrs. Tichnor and Miss Freeman.

BAND CONCERT.

The band concert last evening aroused even more enthusiasm than usual among the delighted audience who demanded several encores and repeated requests for special numbers. The programme tomorrow (Saturday) night will include "Dude's March," (Claude); "A Night in Berlin," (Hartman); "The Light War Dance," (Belstedt); Gavotte, "Lover's Dream," (Cosey); selection, "Nabucca," (Verdi); march, "Midway Plaisance," (DeWitt); comic "Familiar March," (Marlow); (Gounod); xylophone solo, "On Time," (Joseph); by E. V. Goolman; waltz, "Fleur d'Alsace," (Steiner); comic operatic selection, "Paul Jones and Eber Jonathan," Mexican serenade, "La Zingarella," (Luscomb); "Dance Rustic," (Laurendeau).

THE SAILORS' FEUD.

ALL QUIET NOW. BUT IT MAY BREAK OUT AGAIN.

Sensational Accounts That Were Published Fought to be Misleading.

The Ill Feeling is There as of Yore, but the Authorities Are Able to Preserve Order at All Times.

No One Seems to Know Who is the Author of the Warning Circular. The Representatives of Each Faction Now Accuse the Other of the Deed.

The city of San Pedro is "all torn up" over an article which appeared in the columns of the Los Angeles Herald on June 13, under the headlines: "Trouble Brewing for the Sailors; Situation at San Pedro is Critical; Bloodshed is Feared by the Citizens; Rumors of Forming a Vigilance Committee," etc.

This article is denounced by the prominent citizens as an outrage, and one calculated to injure the place in more ways than one. It is true that difficulties have occurred in the past between the Ship-owners' Association and the Sailors' Union, but it has been a long time since any trouble of a serious character has taken place at San Pedro, and this fact makes the article all the more obnoxious to the merchants and citizens. The merchants say that they have enough to contend with, and can scarcely make ends meet with the trade they now have, but to receive a "black eye" of this sort is too much. The Ship-owners' Association has given orders to the captains sailing their vessels not to buy anything in San Pedro that can possibly be purchased elsewhere. The Sailors' Union has also sent forth a flat of a similar nature. The ship-owners claim that the merchants and citizens are in heart-and-hand with their opponents, the Seamen's Union, while the latter say exactly the reverse, and hold the merchants responsible for several acts committed in that place.

Both parties say that a circular which appeared in the Herald is the cause of all trouble at the present time, if trouble there is. The circular is headed "Warning No. 2," and reads as follows: "Warning No. 2: You Pay Your Money and Take Your Choice—If the disgraceful career of the Sailors' Union at San Pedro is not suppressed, and that right speedily, the citizens of this city will try a little hemper upon them, and let them dance upon nothing."

"By their acts they will defeat her appropriation by Congress. In fact, they have seriously damaged it already. I am glad that the citizens have at last organized a Committee of Safety against the labor unions of San Pedro, and against the Sailors' Union in particular. As a member of that committee, I hereby notify all labor organizations of San Pedro, that we are watching them and their leaders, and one more break on their part will spring the trap that we have set for them."

The Ship-owners' agent gives Jim McLaren as the originator of the circular, while Mr. Curtis, agent of the Seamen's Union, thinks Davis of the association is responsible. He says that it may, the circular has been extensively circulated in San Pedro, Redondo, Santa Monica, Santa Barbara and Newport, while a few copies have found their way to San Francisco and Sacramento.

In order to get at the exact status of the so-called trouble, The Times sent a special representative to San Pedro yesterday, who interviewed the most prominent business men, also the heads of the two factions. The result shows that, while there is no actual violence at the present time, nor has there been any of a serious nature for some time past, yet, unless some kind of an agreement should be entered into between the two factions, it will, in time, lead to serious trouble. San Pedro at the present is as quiet as a graveyard. There has been no trouble for some months, and at that time it was nothing more serious than could be handled by the local police force. In fact, the citizens have the most perfect confidence in their force, and say that the insurrection in the article that the Sheriff would be called upon is false, without foundation in fact. Two of the merchants told the reporter they would take oath that, although they were upon the streets at all hours of the day and night, yet they had not even seen a flat fight during the past twelve months.

In order to get at the actual facts in the matter, J. W. Davis, agent for the Ship-owners' Association, and Reuben Curtis, agent of the Seamen's Union, were interviewed. Mr. Davis said: "In the first place, it will be necessary for you to know who this agent for the Seamen's Union is. His name is Jim McLaren, and he is a Nova Scotian by birth. He says he has resigned from the agency, and a cockney named Reuben Curtis is now at the helm; but, be this as it may, McLaren has a hand in the management of the union. There would not be a particle of trouble here did McLaren and his gang keep away from the association ships. I never go to a union ship, and why can't they keep away from ours? Two months ago McLaren went to Contra Costa, and said that he would not permit me to get a crew on the schooner Lucy and J. B. Leeds, which were to clear in about a month. About two weeks ago he placed a patrol in front of my house leading to the vessels, but I fooled him and put non-union crews on the vessels, after which they cleared. One week ago last Saturday I placed a crew on a vessel at Redondo, and Curtis, the so-called agent of the union, interfered. I stopped him forcibly, and it's in the courts now. On Friday, while I was down town to vote at the school election, I first saw the circular. 'Warning No. 2.' I am charged with having published this circular, and having pasted it on the door and window of the headquarters of the Seamen's Union. I charge McLaren with the issuing of the same, and can prove it. In the first place, the portion of the city in which the circular was posted is an unsafe one for me to be found in after dark. My life would not be spared there, and I could not under any possible circumstances be seen there alone after dark. Then again, I look at the circular, and Santa Barbara last Friday, McLaren left here at 11:10 a.m. on that day, and was gone twenty-six hours, returning here Saturday at 1:45 p.m. During this time he claimed to have been to Santa Barbara, and having seen the circular posted there. It was an impossibility for him to make the trip in the time claimed."

"The citizens of San Pedro are a minority and cannot be depended upon to do anything at the right time. I am expecting four vessels within the next week that have association crews. I look for trouble then, and I tell you there will be bloodshed and trouble when the Louisa gets ready to sail, which will be within the next three or four days. George W. Walthew, general manager of the Ship-owners' Association, wrote me the other day that the strike against the association was virtually over in the north, and that San Pedro alone held out. For this reason this place is the background, and I look for trouble and possible loss of life."

Reuben Curtis, agent of the Seamen's Union, was then interviewed. "Mr. McLaren, the former agent, left this morning for Sacramento, but personally I can say I think the circulars were issued by Davis, to create sympathy for himself in his perjury case that comes up for trial in Department One of the Superior Court, on July 8 next. The only violence done in the past has been done by Davis himself. To be sure, some of our hot-headed union men may get too much whiskey aboard and raise something of a noise about the non-union ships, but we have not had a case of violence reported to us for a long time. At the present time there are three vessels discharging lumber at this port. Two of them are union and one non-union. We will not interfere with the non-union ships, that is in the way of force. If we catch the men on shore and persuasion will get them to leave we will of course use it, but will not compel them to do so. The article you refer to says there are 200 idle sailors here. By actual count, there are but forty-five men out of jobs, and they catch work every few days in the lumber-yards. The circulars were written by Davis and are for the purpose of inflaming the worst passions of our men, in order to create riot and fighting."

George H. Peck, president of the San Pedro National Bank, Postmaster Dodson, Dr. Weldon, Judge I. S. Moore were also called upon and expressed regret that an article had been sent out which was so much against the city. Said one of the gentlemen: "It was either written to cause a sensation, or by some reporter who was writing against space. We were all surprised and thought it a 'josh,' and written to sell papers."

Peck and others circulated the following protest yesterday, which was given to The Times for publication. It was signed by every business man and reputable citizen of San Pedro: "We, the undersigned, citizens of San Pedro, having read in the Los Angeles Herald of June 13, 1895, an article under the headlines, 'Trouble Brewing, Bloodshed Feared by the Citizens; Rumors of Forming a Vigilance Committee Being Formed,' emphatically deny that the city of San Pedro has heard of any trouble brewing, or fear that any bloodshed will follow, or that there are any signs of a vigilance committee forming. San Pedro, as a town, has been quiet and peaceful for the past two years. Besides, we are always protected by four constables, two justices and a city marshal, who are county officers, and we consider the article unnecessary, sensational, and uncalled for."

Probably the clearest exposition of the whole matter is given by Judge Downey, Justice of the Peace at San Pedro, who says: "The whole thing can be summed up in a nutshell. Davis, the association agent, does not have the confidence of the better class of the citizens of San Pedro and the Seamen's Union know this fact. The officers of the union are wily men and take advantage of every turn. They have the best legal advice and go just so far and no farther. The fact that, while publishing the San Pedro Sun, Davis was an aggressive union man, and even went so far in one issue as to advise the burning of boats, and after his appointment as agent of the Ship-owners' Association he turned completely around and advocates the other extreme, does not inspire confidence in him and the Seamen's Union know this. I think that if the right kind of a man was at the head of the association here, trouble would cease and the two factions be less antagonistic."

HIS TEMPER ROSE.

Police Commissioner Pirtle Struck a Reporter.

Police Commissioner Pirtle yesterday struck W. D. Wasson, an Evening Record reporter. The reporter, in turn, had the Police Commissioner arrested for battery, and at the trial yesterday afternoon he was found guilty.

The paper in question has impeached Commissioner Pirtle's official integrity in relation to his connection with the granting of a saloon license to Robert Kern, for the premises adjoining Jerry Illich's proposed new building on Third street. Mr. Pirtle has threatened the paper with suits for civil and criminal libel on account of these charges and insinuations. In an alleged interview with J. A. Graves, Esq., the paper made that gentleman say some hard things about Pirtle. Graves, in a letter to Pirtle yesterday, denied that he had made any such statement to a reporter. Reporter Wasson was detailed to interview that official and give him an opportunity to say something in his defense, if he so desired. Wasson, acting on his instructions, called on Pirtle's private office, on Second street yesterday morning, and introducing himself to Pirtle, asked if he desired to say anything in regard to the article published about him on the previous day.

Pirtle replied: "No. I don't want anything to do with you or your paper. Now you get right out of this." The reporter did not like to be ordered out in this peremptory manner, and declined to go. Pirtle, being greatly incensed at Wasson's refusal to leave, laid hands on him, and pushed him toward the door. He thought the reporter would then take the hint and go away, but Wasson was stubborn and returned toward Pirtle. The latter then again laid hold of Wasson, and, as he still resisted, Pirtle slapped him on the neck under the left ear. He then pushed him out the door and kicked at him as he made his exit. Wasson, smarting with rage and pain, immediately hunted up Deputy District Attorney James, and swore out a complaint for battery against Pirtle. As soon as the latter heard of it, he went to Justice Morrison's court and gave himself up. The trial came off at 3:30 p.m. The courtroom was full of newspaper reporters and others who came to witness the interesting proceedings. The defendants were represented by City Attorney McFarland. Deputy District Attorney James conducted the prosecution. After the examination of the principals and an array of witnesses who saw the "scrap," Justice Morrison found the defendant guilty, and ordered him to appear Monday at 9:30 a.m. for sentence.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

A delightful reception was given last evening at the Girls' Collegiate School, by Miss Parsons and Miss Dennen, to meet the graduating class, the Misses Ivy Gardner, Margaret Harris, Caroline Harris, Helen Harris, and Florence Jones. The Misses Cora Goodrich, Fannie Brown, Alice Easton and Hattie Pearson assisted in receiving. The Mandolin Club rendered fascinating music. The piazza was inclosed and lighted with Chinese lanterns. The rooms were beautifully decorated with masses of flowers and palms. A large room on the second floor was arranged as the supper room, and was lovely with the school colors in white and yellow flowers. The table was decorated with yellow marguerites, tied with yellow satin ribbons, trains of asparagus fern were used with careless grace, and the light of the candles came softly through yellow shades.

A RECEPTION.
Mrs. T. D. Stimson and Mrs. J. S. Slauson gave a reception last evening at the home of the former, to meet Miss Detchon. They were assisted in receiving by Misses Vosburg, Macneil and Willard Stimson. The house was elaborately decorated with flowers and potted palms, and the Mandolin Orchestra rendered delightful music during the evening.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB.
The Shakespeare Club met Tuesday morning to begin the study of "Henry VI." Some preparatory work had been done in special study of the character of Joan of Arc, and Mrs. Wineberg gave Voltaire's conception of the character. Bits from the articles in recent numbers of Harper's were also given, followed by a general discussion of the early childhood and later life of this most interesting character.

As a slight review, ten questions were read, the members writing the answers, and the papers were then corrected and the percentage marked. This review was upon "Henry VI." The lesson for next week is the first and second acts of "Henry VI." and an interesting morning is anticipated, as the club received several new members last week, which will add zest to the work.

MARLBOROUGH RECEPTION.
Mrs. George A. Caswell gave a smart reception last evening at the Marlborough School. She was assisted in receiving by Miss Pinney and Miss Ida Lindley. The large veranda was canvassed in, lighted with Chinese lanterns and there in the large hall, dancing was enjoyed, to the delightful music of Lowinsky's Orchestra. The rooms were artistically decorated with masses of flowers, and quantities of grevilleia sprays, with this affair. The large hall was bright with scarlet geraniums, and the white spikes of the yucca.

The dining-room was lovely with panes and smilax, and on each of the large tables were plateaus of the panes. The coffee was poured by the Misses Blanche Bolt and Martha Craig of Pasadena.

ALUMNI BALL.
The alumni ball given by the Los Angeles High School last evening at Turney Hall was a pronounced success.

The hall was prettily decorated with the national colors, and with the graceful branches of the date palm. Supper was served in the dining room, opening out of the hall, and the tables were rendered gorgeous with the flaming spikes of scarlet gladiolus, mingled with the green of the palms. The earlier portion of the evening was occupied with a literary and musical programme, opening with a selection from the comic opera, "Paganini," given by Shepard's Orchestra. An address by Miss Mary E. Foy, president of the Los Angeles High School Alumni Association, followed, and was responded to by Walter Leeds, president of the winter class of '95. D. W. Packard, president of the summer class of '95, then made a brief address, and the class song was given by the summer class of '95. The effect was very pretty, as the stage was filled with the young girls in their fluffy white dress, thrown into relief by the black coats in the background, and the melody of the class song was well rendered. A cornet solo by Miss Matilde Loeb merited the hearty applause which it received, and the programme was closed with an address by E. A. Meeserve of the class of '95.

The remainder of the evening was occupied with dancing. The committees were as follows: Committee on Arrangements—A. W. Kinney, '92, chairman; Mrs. W. Marchant, '94; Curtis de Garmo, '94; L. F. Shepard, '88; Leon Umstead, '93; E. N. Lazard, '94; F. Shoemaker, '94; Miss Nellie Smith, '93; C. A. Bell, '79; Mrs. J. Bloemer, '81; L. E. Rhoads, '92.

LOYAL TEMPERANCE LEGION.

The entertainment by the Los Angeles Loyal Temperance Legion at the First Congregational Church last evening was an enjoyable affair. The platform was converted into an eucalyptus grove and among the branches of the trees hung silken banners upon which were suitable temperance mottoes.

The programme was well rendered and the hearty applause of the large audience gave evidence of their appreciation. The violin orchestra composed of the Story family (parents and four children) deserve special mention. Master Nelson, aged 9 years, played delightfully. The wee lad has been playing one-half his life; tunes his own instrument and keeps time with his right foot. Little Miss Ray is a natural elocutionist, and all enjoyed her recitation "Daisy's Faith."

Ella May White sang the character song, "Driven from Home."

Bonnie Lynn's appeal to the young men and maidens to shun the wine-cup when temptation comes to them, left an impression which will not soon be forgotten.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise party was given Miss Ella Morgan last Wednesday evening at the residence of her parents, on North Main street.

Among those present were the Misses Lizzie Morris, May Hayes, Amy Edwards, Grace Harrington, Gertrude Pollard, Annie Stead, Maud Williams, Agnes Devlin, Carrie White, Maud Smith, Ida Ketter, Jennie Burnett and the Messrs. Louis Bailey, Harry Stead, Merritt Bailey, Louis Pollard, Phil Carr, Henry Muller, Ed Muller, E. D. Mussey, Raymond A. Wetzel, Tom Morris, Frank Devlin, Master Willie Devlin and many others.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Co. C, Seventh Regiment, N. G. C., gave a very pleasant outing party at the Armory last night, which was attended by about 150 couples. A programme of fifteen numbers was danced, closing about 1 o'clock a.m. The Schomman-Blanchard Orchestra furnished the music.

A reception was tendered to the senior preparatory class of the Occidental College last night by the freshman class of the school. A miscellaneous literary and musical programme was rendered, after which a banquet was served to the participants in the affair. Mrs. John W. A. Off left for Santa Cruz a few days ago to witness the water carnival. She will remain in the seashore city about a month, visiting friends.

MUSICAL MENTION.

The Pasadena Choral Society gave a good rendition of Gounod's "Redemption" last evening in Simpson Tabernacle, with O. Stewart Taylor as conductor, Arnold Krause leader of the orchestra and T. W. Wilde organist. The soloists were Miss Marcia Craft and Mrs. Katherine Bosch, sopranos; Miss Norma Rockhold and Mrs. Gibbs, contraltos; J. H. Zinck, tenor, and C. S. Cornell, basso. Miss Craft has a clear and powerful voice, but Mr. Zinck was entirely unequal to his task. The full chorus was excellent.

SOIREE MUSICALE.

The pupils of Mrs. Jenny Twichell Kempton gave a charming recital last evening in the Blanchard-Fitzgerald Hall. Those who took part were Misses Kempton, Hamilton, Campbell, von Slutterbach, Haralson, Scarborough, Misses Henrietta Anderson and Delphine Todd, Mr. Martin and Dr. Semler.

The spacious auditorium of the Second Presbyterian Church was crowded last evening with an audience gathered to hear the concert which was given under the auspices of the church. The programme was made up of eleven numbers, including vocal and piano solos.

Selections by the orchestra from the "Creation," by Haydn, and a rendition of "It is Enough," from the Oratorio of "Elijah," by Mendelssohn. The concert was a distinct success.

Saturday special at Volmer's, 115 South Spring street near First. The interest in our Saturday sales seems to increase with so much favor that in the past it has been almost impossible to get sufficient goods to meet the demand. #### FELL INTO A SEWER.

Mrs. Constance Arballo Meets with Two Singular Mishaps.

It was an unlucky day for Mrs. Constance Arballo yesterday. At 9rd and New High streets, about 5 p.m., she stepped on the cover of a sewer manhole, which tilted, allowing the woman's leg to go into the hole up to the thigh. She was carrying her baby, which was thrown into the street, but fortunately neither she nor the infant were seriously injured.

A little after 9 p.m., Mrs. Arballo was in another portion of town, and while crossing 15th street at Maple avenue, she fell into a sewer excavation. The hole was so deep that the four men who ran to her assistance could just reach her hands when she stood upright. She was lifted out, placed on a car and sent to her home at No. 123 South Main street, where she is now confined to her bed with a bruised right arm and badly sprained back.

There was no light at the excavation when she fell in, and the contractor may be proceeded against for damages.
